AMERICANS OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY OVER NATION ON TUESDAY

President Roosevelt Again Breaks Tradition By Not Making Address; Programs Are Given.

With tributes for their deeds and flowers for their graves, America Tuesday remembered those who gave their lives in her wars.

Pouring rain deepened the note of mourning in which President Roosevelt attended the Memorial day exercises at Arlington cemetery. 50,000 men paraded in New York and a squadron of navy airplanes dropped flowers on the waves beneath which sleep the victims of the Akron disaster.

Away from the Atlantic seaboard, however, spring sunshine followed the uniforms and bunting where eulogies were delivered and buglers blew taps, the baseball teams played double-headers and two automobile racers died at Indianapolis.

Honored In Other Lands.

In foreign lands, too, Americans did honor to dead heroes. Wreaths were placed on the Cenotaph in London and on the tomb of France's unknown soldier beneath the Arc De Triomphe. In Mexico City Ambassador Josephus Daniels, wartime secretary of the navy, paid tribute to the 700 Americans killed in Mexico in the year of 1874, and his voice trembled when he remarked that they were young and did not decree the war in which they died.

In this country the celebrations took their traditional forms—oratory, martial music, musket volleys and the decoration of graves.

Blue and Gray Clasp Hands.

A new note was sounded at Chicago, however, where an aged confederate veteran clasped the hand of a maid who wore the blue to symbolize the end of old differences. Throughout the vast grounds of the Century of Progress exposition three hand concerts were given and colors were raised, and the crowds centered about the various Lincoln exhibits. Several children, who learned by heart "four score and seven years ago," participated in elaborate exercises at the Gettysburg battlefield, where those famed words were uttered.

The new president broke another tradition at Arlington when he made no speech in the amphitheater there. Instead Secretary of War Dern and Secretary of Navy Swanson rededicated the government to the cause of peace. Secretary Swanson also paid special tribute to the Akron victims.

FORMER M'KINNEY MOTHER BURIED AT VAN ALSTYNE

R. F. McGarr, wife and children attended the funeral and burial of Mrs. McGarr's mother, the late Mrs. P. G. Smith at 3:00 o'clock Monday afternoon which was held in the Key Memorial Methodist church, at Sherman. The pastor, Rev. K. R. Isbell, was in charge of the funeral assisted by several other ministers. Burial fololwed beside the grave of her husband in the Van Alstyne cemetery. Her grandsons were pallbearers as follows: Chalmer Sterling, Guy Sterling, Richard McGarr, Robert Lee Smith, Weaver Bafley, Bruce Storey. A special quartet assisted with the music, consisting of Judge J. D. Buster, Judge A. S. Noble, Mrs. D. K. Roberts and Miss Marie Crump. Their piano accompanist was Mrs. Grover Cantrell.

Former McKinney Resident.

The deceased died at 7:00 o'clock Sunday morning, May 28, at the home of her son, T. M. Smith, of Sherman, after a two year period of ill health and confinement to her bed for last two months. She was born, December 20, 1855, at Chattanooga, Tennessee, being 77 years, 5 months and 8 days old when she died. Her maiden name was Sallie Louisa Blackburn. She was the daughter of Albert Blackburn and wife, a couple of old settlers of Chattanooga, Tennessee. She was married, October 1, 1875, in Tennessee, to Rev. P. G. Smith, a Methodist minister. They moved to Texas in 1890, settling in Grayson County, near Sedalia east of Van Alstyne. They later lived at Anna in North Collin during which period her husband preached at Anna, Westof, Melissa and other points in Collin county. He died in Sherman, March 13, 1909, and his funeral was conducted in the same church there that his wife's funeral was held twenty-four years later. After the death of her husband, she lived with Mr. and Mrs. McGarr in McKinney for several years and was a member of the First Methodist church, here. She was a devout Christian woman whose life as the wife of a minister, as a mother and a neighbor was a consecrated one and one of loving service to her church and her God and her life was filled throughout with motherly ministering to all those about her.

Her Survivors.

She is survived by three sons—T. M. Smith and Walter Smith, both of Sherman; Joe Smith of Abilene and by six daughters; Mrs. Percy Sterling and Mrs. Mary Bailey, both of Sherman; Mrs. Ola Storey of Electra; Mrs. R. F. McGarr of McKinney, Mrs. Rebecca Davis of Sweetwater and Mrs. Ruth Pelay of Canton, Ohio.

She is also survived by thirty-six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, also by one sister, Mrs. Tina Presswood of Rowlett, about twelve miles southwest of McKinnay and by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Bertha Blackburn of Garland.

Betty Jo Geer, atractive daughter of Mrs. Marguerite Geer, is confined to her home with a case of the measles.

Master Jack Kirby of the Climax community continues to improve in the McKinney City hospital, where he has been a patient for several days.

J. W. Hall, of Copeville, continues to improve in the McKinney City hospital, where he has been a patient for the past week or two.

Katherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Caldwell, has been quite ill and confiend to her bed and room with the measles. However, her condition is improving with

H. Killingsworth and wife (formerly Miss Louie Abbott) of Oklahoma City are in McKinney looking after property interests. Mrs. Killingsworth is the daughter of the late Dr. S. H. Abbott and wife. She was born and reared here. Mr. Killingsworth also made his home in McKinney for twelve or fifteen years. He is now manager of the Baptist state book concern in Oklahoma City. He has an auto casing cover on his car that is attracting quite a deal of favorable comment. It reads: "No Repeal—The Eagle Never Flies Backward." An American eagle is down flying around the mountain that looms in front of its straight flight. The cover is red, white and blue, adding significance and attractiveness to the cover that many are using on their autos who are in favor of the retention of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gateley and little daughter, Sharon Lynn, of Dallas, came up Tuesday night to spend the night with Mrs. Gateley's mother, Mrs. Martin W. Moses, and family in this city. They returned to their home in Dallas Wednesday morning.

COL. GOEBEL TO VISIT M'KINNEY IN NEAR FUTURE

A. H. (Hardy) Eubanks, McKinney banker, is in receipt of an interesting letter from Col. Art Goebel, noted aviator, who has often visited McKinney and who spent several weeks in the City hospital here following a broken limb received when his ship crashed here May 28, 1932, saying that he plans to visit McKinney the latter part of this week.

"Well, it is just a year ago today since I crashed and you picked me up so gently," the Dole flight winner writes. "Left Los Angeles two weeks ago, first going to New York, later arriving in Chicago for the world's fair."

He is flying his own ship and informs Mr. Eubanks he will fly to McKinney the latter part of the present week. If the field, east of McKinney, where he crashed, is in condition, he will land there; otherwise he will land some other place near the city. Mr. Eubanks and other friends will signal him where to land in event the field near East Fork creek is unsuitable.

Col. Goebel's ship, with its orange colored wings, should be easily recognized by local residents.

Friends in McKinney will be glad to learn that the flying ace is now entirely recovered from his accident and that his leg is 100 per cent perfect again. He took a flying examination some time ago and, to prove that he is still a master at performing those seemingly incredible stunts in the air, he repeated past performances by cutting all kinds of capers before he landed from his test flight.

During his frequent visits here Col. Goebel made a host of friends in the city and county. Our readers will remember that he was injured and his mechanic killed as they attempted to take off from the field east of town at the beginning of a rainstorm. Mr. Eubanks was the first to reach Goebel, conveying him to the City hospital.

GRAND MASTER HUGHSTON SPEAKS AT MASONIC HOME

Judge Wallace Hughston of McKinney, Grand Master of Texas Masons, delivered the commencement address to the largest graduating class in the history of the Masonic Home High school at Fort Worth Monday morning. The class numbered forty-two young men and women, representing as many Masonic lodges of the state. Abner McCall was salutatorian and Harold McClure, valedictorian, of the class. Young Mr. McCall was also awarded the York Rite scholarship from the Dallas York Rite bodies at Baylor university, Waco.

Grand Master Hughston confined his remarks to Masonic duty and citizenship. He commended Texas Masonry for the fine work the craft is doing at the home and school. To each member of the faculty he paid tribute and to Supt. Thomas Fletcher he was especially generous in his remarks as to the fine character of work he has been doing. The Masonic Home board, composed of Past Grand Master Nat Washer, San Antonio; Dr. A. A. Ross, Lockhart; Gus Brandt, Houston; Mike Thomes, Dallas, and Elmer Renfro of Fort Worth, was commended for management of the institution.

The board conducted its annual meeting Saturday and Sunday. Dr. Ross and Mr. Brandt had to return to their respective homes Sunday night and were unable to be present at the exercises. The large auditorium was filled with Fort Worth and Dallas Masons, with a number from a distance, among them District Deputy A. E. McSweeney, Stephenville; Oscar Burton, chairman of the finance committee, Tyler; L. J. McDonald, district deputy, Kemp. About seventy-five Masons were present.

The Masonic High school is one of the best schools in the state in turning out young men and women of excellent ability, character and scholarship.

The Masonic Home football team, undefeated in Class A, Interscholastic league competition, during 1932, was runner-up for the state championship. Eleven of this team were in the graduating class, including: Tom Lee Adams, Reagan Gibbs, Richard Kelsey, Scott McCall, Harold McClure, Reese Newsome, Leon Pickett, Glynn Roberts, John Dee Selman, Edward Stages and Bailey Thorpe.

Other honors won by the institution during 1932 and 1933 include:

Woodrow Bean, extempore speaking, district champion; Christine Lenox, extempore speaking, third place, state meet; Catherine Shaw and Ora Box, district champions in debate; Alva Mae ...

Oklahoma Is First To Sell Car of '33 Wheat

Sold At 60 Cents Bushel; First Load '32 Crop At 34 Cents.

What was believed to be the first carload of wheat marketed in the United States was shipped from Grandfield, Ok., near Wichita Falls, Texas, Tuesday, May 30, by George T. Caroll and Paul Burch, farmers living just across the Red River from that city in Tillman County, Oklahoma.

The carload consisted of 1,600 bushels testing sixty-two pounds and sold at 60c. The grain was purchased by R. I. Helton, Grandfield buyer and banker. He consigned the wheat to E. M. Rogers Grain company of Fort Worth.

The wheat from Carroll's bins was being ground Tuesday by W. A. Robson, Grandfield grist miller. Robson planned to send tomorrow loafs of bread made from the Carroll wheat to Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma and to President Roosevelt.

Carroll brought the first wagonload of 1933 wheat to Grandfield Monday. This was the second consecutive year he had produced the first load of the new crop.

Floyd Holly of Wichita county, Texas, sold Wichita Falls' first load of wheat last year at 34c per bushel.

ATTEND FUNERAL IN DURANT, OKLA.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Knott, Mrs. Knott's mother, Mrs. Milburn, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Massie were in Durant, Okla., Tuesday to attend funeral services that afternoon for the late Landon F. Son, who died there late Sunday following an operation.

The deceased was related by marriage to W. H. Knott and was also a close, personal friend of Mr. Massie. He was manager of the Holmes Funeral home, in Durant, having often visited his friend, Mr. Massie, in this city. Messrs. Son and Massie attended school together, taking their state embalming examination at the same time.

The deceased was a native of Russellville, Missouri, where he was born October 31, 1895. The family moved to Ardmore in 1901. He moved to Durant in 1923, since which time he had been connected with the Holmes Funeral home. He was a lifelong member of the Methodist church and also a member of the Durant Lions' club. Surviving are his wife and three children, one daughter and two sons.

A copy of the Durant Daily Democrat of Monday, May 29, containing an account of the death of this well-known young business man and also resolutions in honor of the deceased by the Lions' club of that city. He was the only active member of that Lions' club lost by death since its organization in 1919.

After being a patient in the state hospital at Terrell for seven months and ten days, George W. Arnold, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Looper, formerly of Rhea's Mill, but now residents of Dallas county, was able to leave that institution. He and his wife are temporally residing at the home of the latter's parents. This good family have a host of friends in the Rhea's Mill- Celina section of the county as well as in and around McKinney who will be glad to know of Mr. Arnold's improved condition.

Ten men are busy at work in the rear of Bryan Brothers' store on East Louisiana street this week, assembling thousands of onion crates in preparation for the 1933 onion season which is just opening up over the county. The space in the back of the building has been leased by Bryan Bros. to P. R. Westmoreland, who is having the work done. Mr. Westmoreland will use some of the crates himself. He will sell most of them, however, to onion growers over the county. The onion crop gives promise of being fairly good in the county this year, with a fair price promised for the product.

Mrs. E. L. Burton's Sunday school class of young ladies of the First Methodist church, numbering about twenty young ladies, enjoyed a delightful weiner roast and outing at Finch Park Tuesday night. After the young ladies had enjoyed a feast, they enjoyed playing games of all kinds. This picnic was the culmination of an attendance contest in which the class were divided into two side, with

Quarterly Meeting W. M. U. June 6th

Westminster Will Be Host To All-Day Gathering.

The quarterly meeting of the Collin County Baptist Women's Missionary union will be held at Westminster Tuesday, June 6. The meeting opens at 10 o'clock, featuring young people's work. At noon a shoe box lunch will be served.

Among those on the program are Miss Mary Campbell of the Wylie Y. W. A., who will open the meeting with the morning devotional. Little Misses Robbie and Sue McCoy, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCoy of this city, representing the G. A. of the First Baptist church, will give a duet. Mrs. R. C. Fortner of Plano will bring a report of the Southern Baptist convention while Miss Joy Leake, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Leake of Plano, will be the soloist at the morning session. A representative of the young people's organizations will give a discussion of the young people's work.

Dr. J. H. Cozad, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, will bring the day's sermon.

Miss Rebekah Wilcox, daughter of Judge and Mrs. F. E. Wilcox, will open the afternoon session, with a devotional after which Mrs. John Green of this city will review "Baptist Women of Texas, 1830-1930."

Mrs. Robert E. Beddoe will be the principal speaker of the afternoon in the interest of the Baylor college campaign.

SPANISH WAR VETERAN CAMP MONTHLY MEET

A regular monthly meeting of Henry A. Wiley Camp, No. 29, United Spanish War Veterans, was held at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday night, May 30, on the second floor of the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette office. Its officers, Walter B. Wilson, commander; A. M. Russell, adjutant and Hugh L. Kirkpatrick, quartermaster, were all in their respective places. A fairly good attendance of the veterans of that war of thirty-five years ago were present.

The outstanding feature of interest at this meeting was the report of Past President F. Dudley Perkins, who was the camp's delegate to the recent state encampment held at the state capital at Austin for two days. Mr. Perkins is an excilent speaker who reviewed the meeting and the outcome and results of that conflict of 1898-99 which was fought entirely by volunteer soldiers. The United States emerged victoriously and, in addition to freeing Cuba and the Phillipines of their long period of Spanish misrule and oppression, also brought the United States to the forefront as the greatest world power.

Others who made talks were Hugh L. Kirkpatrick, Jim P. Thomas, A. M. Russell and R. R. Parker, the latter of Princeton.

Anna Teachers Present Pupils In Recital

Mrs. S. J. Smith, Mrs. W. G. Strother and Miss Anna Lou Powell, teachers of piano, violin and expression at Anna presented their pupils in recital in the high school auditorium Friday night.

Those on the program were Raymond Martin, Roy Whaley, Robert Smith, Oulda Nixon, Clarice Sue Lair, Mogean Kelly, Avadue James Brown, Doris Howell, Gawain Bonner, Jack Lair, Betty Jane Hagin, Mrs. W. D. Martin, J. C. Oneal, Ann Jack Strother, Tom Billie Strother, C. E. Lair Jr., Billie Hagin, Arma Belle Hendricks, Mary Sue Hagin, A. L. Harkins Jr., Frances Hagin, Thelma Lair, William Smith, Jewel Howell, Virginia Belle Strother, Katherine Lair, Gladys Johnston and Mildred Strother.

William Carroll underwent an operation for appendicitis in the City hospital Tuesday night. He is getting along as well as could be expected Wednesday.

Lewis Young, well-known mechanic of this city, underwent an operation in the City hospital recently. He is getting along nicely.

FOUR BIG WHEAT GROWING NATIONS TO STUDY PRICES

London, May 31.—Representatives of the United States, Argentina, Australia and Canada will meet here Wednesday to attack the problem of low-priced wheat through the agency of restricted production.

The conference, adjourned from Geneva, will attempt to devise a plan of slashed wheat acreage in each of the principal producing countries which would allow tremendous stocks now in existence to be used up to some extent before the world's grain cornucopia again overflows.

Delegates to the conference are hopeful that some plan can be drawn up agreeable to each of the principal producing nations.

Effective Next Year.

Since the harvest in the United States and Canada is imminent, and sowing for next season's crop already has begun in the Southern Hemisphere, it is improbable that any plan could be made effective before 1934.

The scheme evolved, if any is agreed on, will be embodied in a suggestion to the world economic conference, which will be asked to approve it and to obtain pledges of co-operation from other nations.

Think Russia Will Join.

It is not felt here that Russia, for instance will cause any difficulty, since it would be to Soviet interest to assist in bringing about an increase in the wheat price.

But to make certain of the workability of the plan, the principal consuming nations probably will be asked for pledges to buy from the sources they have been using and not to increase their purchases from nonrestricted sources.

Frederick E. Murphy, publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune, who participated in the Geneva wheat discussions, is an advocate of drastic reduction in acreage. He will urge this as a solution for disposing of the world's surplus.

MOTHER MRS. J. P. CROUCH PASSES AWAY

Misses Bessie and Byrdie Keen of this city received a message last Wednesday morning, informing them of the death of Mrs. Catherine Smith, mother of Mrs. J. P. Crouch, at her late home in LaBelle, Missouri, which occurred Tuesday. Mrs. Crouch recently visited with friends in McKinney and left here Saturday on her return trip home to be with her mother, being informed en route home of her mother's serious illness.

The deceased was 90 years of age and had lived in LaBelle all of her life. Interment was made at LaBelle Thursday. Mrs. Smith often visited in McKinney when her daughter, Mrs. Crouch, lived here and had made many many friends in this city.

M'KINNEY GIRL VICE PRESIDENT MUSIC CLUB

Miss Edith Strode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Strode, who reside just south of the city, junior music major at the Texas State College for Women, at Denton, was recently elected vice president of the Odeon club of that college. This club, composed entirely of students in the department of music, is one of the most active organizations on the campus. Besides sponsoring such college musical activities as the annual music meet and the artists' course, the club presents music students of the college in monthly programs.

Miss Strode is also a member of the Betsy Ross Literary club, the Villagers' club, the French club and the college choir. She is a pupil of William E. Jones, director of the department of music, and will be presented next year in junior and senior voice recitals.

During the current year, Miss Strode has been heard in programs from WFAA and WRR in Dallas and WBAP in Fort Worth.

Ray Hamilton is confined to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Obe McCollum with the measles.

Mrs. K. D. Watkins of this city is recovering from an operation which she recently underwent in the McKinney City hospital.

Mrs. T. D. Brown, of near Celina, continues to show improvement in the McKinney City hospital, where she has been a patient for the past two weeks.

Mrs. W. R. Marshall, Mrs. N. A. Williams, Mrs. Nettie McIlwain and daughter, Dorothy, all

PROGRESSIVE M'KINNEY PROPERTY HOLDERS ARE IMPROVING PROPERTY

Work Picking Up To Some Extent For Carpenters, Plumbers, Electricians, Painters and Paperhangers of City.

When carpenters, plumbers, paperhangers and painters are employed business conditions pick up right now and trade with local merchants improves and times can be truthfully said to be surely improving.

McKinney has three good big lumber yards that sell all kinds of building material, paints, etc., besides several other mercantile establishments who retail paints.

Every property holder should strain a point to make improvemens on his buildings where needed as labor and material are now cheaper than they are likely to be again for a period of several years to come.

Lat Chandler is only one among a number of expert painters and paperhangers of the city who are anxious to make estimates on prospective improvements in their line and do your work in a satisfactory way and at a reasonable cost if you will only let them figure with you and assist you in getting together this information and doing work that will prolong the life of your property, brighten up its appearance and add greatly to the civic appearance of our splendid little home city.

Lat Chandler, a local paint and paper contractor, has been quite busy for sometime following his craft. He has repapered several rooms in the L. E. Stewart home, 805 West Hunt street; also repainted the home of Will C. Gerrish on West Virginia street and repapered several of its rooms. He has also just repapered the home of Mrs. Lucille Hines on West Louisiana street, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. Hammond Moore.

There is a perceptible pick-up in recovering, repairing and remodeling of residences over the city and in repapering and repainting them.

This kind of work has been deferred during the last three or four years of the depression. Consequently, there is a need of much more of these kind of improvements in brightening up of residences over the entire city than ever before.

With rising farm commodity prices and a lessening of the general unemployment situation over the country, these kind of improvements may be expected to continue to pick up in an increasing way from now on for the ensuing months, probably extending over the next two or three-year period.

MRS. ALICE C. HOWARD DIES TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Alice C. Howard, aged 76, died at her home, 1008 North Church street, this city Tuesday night, May 30, at 10:40 o'clock after an illness of about a month.

The deceased was born May 30, 1857, in the state of Missouri, being a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Zachrus Jennings of that state. She moved to Texas in 1880. She was the wife of the late Jackson W. Howard of this city. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Several children survive her passing. They are: Daniel L. Howard, Fort Worth; Mrs. J. W. McGarrah, McKinney; Charles I. Howard, Portland, Ore.; Jack Howard, Brownwood; Mrs. Fred Lozier, Kellyville, Okla.; Richard Howard, Idaho Falls, Idaho; Mrs. Frances Morgan, McCamey, Texas. One son, Morris Howard, preceded her to the grave.

Funeral services were held at the family residence last (Wednesday) afternon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. G. B. Bradshaw. Interment followed in Pecan Grove cemetery under the direction of the Isaac Crouch Funeral home.

SPECIAL SUMMER RATE M'KINNEY PUBLIC LIBRARY

Miss Faye Wilcox, librarian of the McKinney Public library, announces a special summer rate in membership fee of only fifty cents, beginning June 1 and continuing through September 1. Miss Wilcox says it is the library's belief that a number of people who do not find time during the entire year to read steadily are able to do so during the three summer months and will therefore be benefitted by this special library privilege.

Students are especially invited to take advantage of this offer. The annual membership fee is only $1.00. Interest continues to increase in the library and donations are coming in. The largest recent donation was made recently by Editor F. Carlie Thompson, who donated 75 volumes.

R. C. Heathington, manager of the Underwood Chevrolet Car company; Ray Roberts, W. O. Tittle and Cameron Helms left Wednesday morning for Chicago, where they will spend a week or ten days visiting the "Century of Progress" exposition. They are making the trip in Mr. Heathington's Chevrolet.

Mike Harrington, son of County Judge and Mrs. J. Frank Harrington, has been removed to his home on West Louisiana street from the city hospital, where he underwent an appendicitis operation recently.

One of the most appreciated graduation presents received by Miss Frances Duer of this spring's McKinney High school graduating class was a $25.00 check sent by her brother, Tom Duer, of the United States Navy, who is now stationed in New York, where he has been for about two years. Tom, who was born and reared in McKinney, entered the navy twelve years ago in which service he has made a very creditable record, now being first-class pharmacist mate. Tom was married nearly two years ago in New York City, where his wife is saleslady for the great Macy department store, in which there are several thousand employes. Tom and Miss Frances are children of Mr. and Mrs. Will T. Duer, who reside on North Tennessee street. It has been almost four years since

Mrs. O. B. Myrick, who continues to improve, will soon be restored sufficiently to have the cast removed from her body. She and her husband reside at 707 Anthony street. She was taken home after several weeks treatment in the McKinney City hospital, where she was cared for after breaking both arms and injuring her back in a fall through an unbannistered skylight in a vacant store building on the west side of the public square in which she and some other members of the J. W. Webb P.-T. A. were arranging to hold a quilt sale at the time of the very serious accident several weeks ago.

Little Miss Tina Mae Curtis, Route 3, McKinney, is still a patient in the City hospital here, where she is receiving treatment.

EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

When you trade in McKinney, you save the difference.

If you would have your home papers and home printers continue to boost the old town, give them your printing. You can save the difference if you will do this.

"The Forgotten Man"—the farmer—is coming back. When he does, then, and only then, will we all "come back." We will all welcome him, too.

Samuel Howard Pattie, a Van Alstyne boy, will be among the 435 midshipmen to be graduated from the United States naval academy at Annapolis, Maryland, on June 1. Mr. Pattie is one of the fourteen Texans to be graduated this year. He was appointed by Congressman Sam Rayburn and entered the service in June, 1929. He is a graduate of the Van Alstyne High school and attended North Texas State Teachers college at Denton before entering the academy. He missed a recent European cruise with his classmates due to an attack of appendicitis.

McKinney has gotten much notoriety from being the home of Gustine Courson Weaver, author of many books. She is nationally known as "The Texas Doll Lady." Her private collection of historic dolls is greater than any other perhaps in the United States. It has been sent to the Chicago Century of Progress World Fair to be admired by thousands of people this summer and fall. After which it will be shipped to the national capital at Washington to be placed on exhibit in glass-show cases for permanent display in one of the government buildings. She gave the collection to the American Association of University Women that loaned it to the Chicago World's Fair where it will be exhibited in connection with the portrayal of 100 years of development of American toys, which include dolls.

Marriage licenses will soon be back where they were before the so called "gin law" was passed. The present session of the legislature has repealed the three-day notice requirement and also the requirement of a medical certificate for the prospective bridegroom. The bill has been signed by the governor and will, therefore, become a law ninety days after the adjournment of the present session of the legislature. Mrs. Pearl Strother, county clerk, is expecting the marriage license business of her office to then pick up and assume normal proportions again. Since the present law has been in force the last few years, most couples desiring to wed have gone across Red River into Oklahoma to obtain marriage license and have their nuptial knot tied where no such restrictions as the "gin marriage" law imposes.

One of the most remarkable aged ministers in Texas, is Eld. R. C. Horn of McKinney. Although he is in his ninety-fourth year, he is in the enjoyment of physical strength and mental vigor. This editor heard him preach his eighty-ninth birthday anniversary sermon, which was a vigorous, logical and forceful deliverance. This grand old Collin minister is a university graduate and a scholarly old patriarch whose great, portly figure is crowned with a wealth of snow white hair and a long flowing white beard. In his younger manhood he taught school along with his preaching and farming. He and his good wife lived for about fifty years on their farm about five miles norhwest of McKinney until a few years ago when they bought a home and moved to town where they are taking life less strenuously. Few ministers have preached as many sermons, performed as many marriage ceremonies or officiated at as many funerals as this beloved old minister of the Disciples of Christ.

NEW FARM RELIEF BILL.

The new act, however, provides other means not only for paying off existing mortgages but for the redemption of land which has already been sold under foreclosure, for satisfying other than mortgage debts, and for obtaining funds with which to continue the operation of the farm. The act provides a fund of $200,000,000, which is to be used by the Farm Loan Commissioner in making direct loans to farmers for any of these purposes. Preference is to be given to the applications of those farmers who wish to borrow to save their land from foreclosure or to redeem land that has already been sold.

Acting through an agent in each one of the Federal Land Banks, the Farm Land Commissioner is empowered to make individual loans in amounts not to exceed $5,000 in the case of any individual. These loans are to be for a period of 13 years and are to be paid off during the last 10 years of the term. For the first 3 years, nothing but interest payments, at the rate of 5 per cent. will be required. These loans may be made on the security of either first or second mortgages against not only the farm itself but any stock, machinery, or other farm property which the farmer possesses. The amount borrowed under this plan, together with the amount of all outstanding claims which take precedence, must not exceed 75 per cent of the value of the farm property pledged for the loan. It is expected that loans under this provision of the act will permit many farmers to reduce their burdens of debt by coming to understandings with their creditors.—Henry Morgenthau Jr.

Some men lose character by trying to live up to their reputation.

Reading advertisements is as eagerly done and more so than reading the news columns by many people. Newspaper subscribers watch for store advertising that offers prices or advantages of service which means saving of money to their patrons.

A MOST CRITICAL DECISION.

The human organism is built upon disciplines, coordinations, restraints, reactions developed and communicated by brain and nerves into conduct and action. Alcohol taken as a beverage poisons the tissues of the brain, cripples and disorganizes nerve activity, and thus pollutes, distorts, destroys the sources of normal life and progress. It attacks first of all the most delicate and vital brain centers, whence emanate conceptions of right and truth and justice, of policies of enterprise and government; impairs the capacity of the nerves to carry the impulses of efficient action; and long before its effects on the body are visible, long before what is commonly supposed to be intoxication visibly develops, it has started a human unit on the road to moral collapse, mental incapacity, and physical enfeeblement. Of course, individuals pause at different stages on that road. Some halt and some retrace their steps. But multitudes go on unable to combat the lure of the drug until they form a load beneath which civilization staggers and descends.

The danger to the United States of a return to legalized alcohol can not be overstated. The scale on which machinery and enterprise must operate to preserve and to increase in this country the widest diffusion of the facilities of modern life any nation has ever known produces an exhaustion and a strain calling for the most serious attention. Add to this the problem of caring for millions of the homeless and the unemployed, of finding relief from the most devastating economic upheaval in human annals, and the need for a sober nation with all the abilities of its people intact and militant becomes so pressing as to admit of no denial. The temptation to find a temporary forgetfulness in a deadly, narcotic drug like alcohol becomes more formidable as the crisis lingers and modern demands and responsibilities on the human make-up multiply. We are now cultivating the substitution of healthful and normal forms of relaxation and recreation for the use of alcohol. The repeal of prohibition would be fatal to this fundamental step in human progress.

And so we confront one of the most critical decisions in all history. National prohibition and the most productive years of the mechanical era began together. Prohibition was the culmination of a succession of welfare measure which paralleled the growing application of machine power and scientific knowledge to human industry, a movement which acquired its full momentum in the United States shortly after the Civil War. The purpose of these enactments was to bring scientific knowledge to the doorsteps of the people, to enable them to meet the exactions and the emergencies of the mechanized degime, to protect them against the vast concentrations of machinery and wealth rising on every side and converting the once independent masses into tenants and employees—to shield society against the accidents, calamities, diseases, vices, crimes, and deaths attending the new period—to equip humanity for the operation and the mastery of the machine. General addiction to the alcoholic drug which in a less strenuous time had been permitted under more or less rigid limitations became intolerable in an age of mechanical transport and manufacture, of numberless units and mighty masses of machinery, of organizations and enterprises of gigantic scope, requiring muscles like iron, nerves like adamant, integrity like granite, minds with the accuracy of the modern instruments and engines to be operated and controlled.—United States Senator Morris Sheppard.

BATTLING THE BREWERS.

In Oklahoma the election to legalize the sale of beer is set for the second week in July. The election in Texas on beer legalization and to elect delegates to the Constitutional Convention to act on the repeal of the 18th Amendment will be held August 26. In the case of beer the measure provides that counties and other political sub-divisions that were dry by local option prior to the adoption of State Constitutional prohibition will remain dry until their status is changed by local option vote in those divisions says the Southwestern Advocate editor. But in keeping with the current haste to submerge the country in beer the Legislature provided that such local option elections may be held prior to the State election. We doubt if history records any movement in which such haste has been shown as this movement to destroy every vestige of prohibition.

Frankly we are in danger of losing the fruits of a hundred and fifty years of fighting the liquor traffic. What is done to win must be done in less than four months. So far as moral safe-guards and even morals are concerned this whole Nation is on a slippery slope. Unless we can arouse the fighting spirit of the moral forces the country is going to lose ground that will require a generation to regain.

We are in the midst of a stampede. This is largely due to the depression and the depression is largely due to bungling on the part of world leaders coupled with lack of moral stability on the part of the rest of us. As evidence of stampede psychology witness the insane haste in Congress in destroying the temperance work of generations within a few hours. See the beer truck drive up to the White House with its keg of beer the minute the new law went into effect. Watch thirsty congressmen and their secretaries drink 720 bottles of beer the first day it was available in the House restaurant. It had not been obtainable there for thirty years. A year ago our politicians were swearing they would never permit the return of the saloon. They have actually opened a saloon in the Capitol of the Nation. Look at the brewers hanging around Congress like a brood of foul birds. It is probable that they did not actually write the beer bill—they are not very good at writing—but it was unquestionably their bill. You can go to Austin or Oklahoma and witness the same mad rush to make a decent country sloppy. All restraint is gone. Even in Dallas on a recent Sunday 48 women came together to organize a barmaid's union! Men and women, this is what is coming unless immediate organized effort is made to prevent it. We are fighting against wild mob psychology. Our opponents have vast sums of money at their disposal. It is unquestionably furnished by those who expect to make money out of the beer business. We can whip them if we try. But it means every county and every community must be organized without delay. The preachers who are worth their salt are on our side although some of them keep rather quiet about it. If this country doesn't need its preachers in this fight in this emergency it doesn't need them at all. The school teachers are with us as they have repeatedly shown by their acts. Multiplied thousands of fathers and mothers are with us. But all these forces must be mobilized and galvanized into action.

We need thousands of volunteer workers, who will give as devoted service as the other side can hire with brewers' money. We can win the fight, we must win it for the boys and girls of these states.

A Valuable Benefaction.

A perusal of the above listings of standard and classic literature convinces the reader of the very great importance and value of this splendid benefaction of this veteran McKinney editor to our fast growing free city, public library which is comfortably housed in a room in the courthouse, easy of access. Miss Faye Wilcox, the talented and faithful librarian, voices the sentiment of every book lover in the city and county when she says that Mr. Thompson has made a distinct, worthwhile contribution indeed to the intellectual and cultural life of our people. Faithfully kept records show that nearly a thousand visits are made by patrons to this appreciated local library every month. Mr. Thompson and his deceased wife, who was herself a very cultured and well-educated woman, had gathered these volumes for their home library during the long, happy years of their married life. Mr. Thompson has been a McKinney editor for over forty years during which period he has had a conspicuous part in every good public work and movement. He has many valuable services that he has rendered to the beloved people among whom he lives and loves to labor and who honor and hold him in highest esteem.

MRS. J. A. FRIZZELL DIED AT HOME IN PRINCETON

Mrs. J. A. Frizzell, aged 86 years, died at her home in Princeton Saturday night, May 27, at 12 o'clock after a three years' illness. The direct cause of her death was tonsilitis which developed with other complications.

The deceased was born in Decatur county, Tennessee, May 11, 1846, being a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Rushing.

She moved to Collin county in this state 46 years ago, the past twelve years being spent in Princeton. She was a member of the Baptist church.

The deceased is survived by her aged husband, J. A. Frizzell, and the following children: Will Frizzell, Dallas; Millard Frizzell, Princeton; Walter and Minnie Frizzell, both at home. Seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive. Six children, three having died in infancy, preceded her to the grave.

Funeral services were held at the Princeton Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Greer, the pastor. Interment followed in the Princeton cemetery, under the direction of the John K. Wilson & Son Funeral home.

SEVENTH GRADE GRADUATES ARE GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Diplomas were presented to all Collin county rural students, who had successfully passed standardized seventh-grade examinations, in county-wide commencement exercises, held here Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist church.

The seventh graders occupied a special section of seats in that large auditorium, which was filled to capacity for the exercises. County Superintendent L. Dow Hendricks presided.

Supt. Hendricks introduced several pupils of Miss Lucy Rasor, McKinney music teacher, who provided some enjoyable musical numbers, vocal, piano and violin.

Mrs. J. Frank Harrington, of McKinney, active civic and club worker, and County P.-T. A. president, gave the commencement talk to the seventh graders, while Don W. Bagwill, city editor of The Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette, presented the diplomas.

Pupils Aid Program.

Pupils of Miss Rasor, who added to the program with their numbers are: "Blowing Bubbles," with Miss Mary Jo Hamilton, pianist, and little Miss Elaine Kissinger, Alice Marie Snapp, Robby McCoy and Sue McCoy; piano solo, Miss Edna Elizabeth Purnell; reading, Miss Lera Howell of Kelley; violin solo, Miss Ann Jack Strother, with Mrs. Sid Smith, accompanist, of Anna; reading, Miss Louise McConnell, McKinney.

The seventh-grade class of the Anna school gave two musical numbers. They are pupils of Prof. Morrison. They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Sid Smith with Ann Jack and Tom Billy Strother accompanying on the violin.

Compliments Graduates.

Mrs. Harrington, "In beginning, congratulated the graduates upon completing one more step in their education. "I believe in the boys and girls of Collin county. I believe you are the whitest boys and girls on the blackest land where the strongest onions and richest cream in America grows."

Speaking of education, she said: "Ignorance is dangerous. Education is a bulwark of security. This is an intensely educational age and knowledge is not confined to any class. The public school, the press and the public library furnish the best means of

are going to do." She spoke of the many interesting vocations for both boys and girls, impressing upon them the fact that, as individuals, there will be things they can do better than any one else.

'Rights' of the Students.

"One hears much of the "American's right'" Mrs. Harrington told her young listeners. She referred to the 'right' of the person whom we refer to as the 'road hog.' The law gives him a 'right' to half the road, but he chooses the center, thereby running into trouble ahead. "He had a 'right' but he refused to accept responsibility along with that 'right'" she said.

Mentioning a few of the many 'rights' of which our youth can boast she recalled the following: The 'right' of every child for a home, and the love and security accompanying a home; the 'right' of spiritual and moral training, to help them to stand firm under the pressure of life; a 'right' to health protection from birth through adolescence; residence in a community that recognizes and plans for his, or her, needs, protects them against physical dangers, moral hazards and diseases, and providing them with safe and wholesome places for play and recreation, and makes provisions for their cultural and social needs; a 'right' of every child to an education, which, through the discovery and development of their individual ability, prepares him for life; every child has a right to grow up in a family with an adequate standard of living and the security of a stable income, as the surest safeguard against social handicaps; a right of protection against labor that stunts growth, either physical or mental, that limits education, that deprives children of the right of comradeship, of play and joy; for every rural child as satisfactory schooling and health services as for the city child.

Responsibility.

"And with rights, come responsibilities, developing as the child matures," she added.

"Time to Fight."

Mrs. Harrington, during her interesting talk, quoted the poem, "Time to Fight."

"There's a time to part and a time to meet,
There's a time to sleep and a time to eat
There's a time to work and a time to play,
There's a time to sing and a time to pray.
There's a time that's glad and a time that's blue,
There's a time to plan and a time to do
There's a time to grin and to show your grit,
But there never yet was a time to quit."

Diplomas Presented.

In a brief talk to the seventh grade graduates, prior to presenting the diplomas, Mr. Bagwill said that this is a time the students have been anxiously looking forward to since they first entered school. He compared education to the building of a house. "The contractor does not stop after he has built a firm and solid foundation, but proceeds to build a beautiful, substantial and useful structure—a home that will be useful and beneficial."

These seventh graders, he continued, have built an important part of their foundation; they must not stop, but proceed to build a great and useful life that will be of benefit and of service to mankind. He closed by urging them to set a goal letting nothing stop them from attaining that mark, quoting Wendell Phillips, who said: "Life's sweetest music is not the applause of the crowd, but the approval of one's own conscience."

Supt. Hendricks, after the students had received their diplomas, announced that Miss Marie Thomas of Copeville made the highest average in the standardized seventh-grade examinations and that Miss Lucille Howard of Bloomdale was second. He commended the teachers of Collin county for their loyalty and for the splendid work they had done this year.

Miss Mary Lou Graves gave the benediction, dismissing the audience.

KAY KIMBELL OF SHERMAN BUYS ANNA GIN

Purchase of gins at Tioga, Anna, and Pilot Point by Kay Kimbell to supply seed for the Kimbell Oil Mill at Sherman was announced Thursday.

The gin at Anna is known as the Farmers and Merchants' Gin and Mill Company plant and was purchased from the Sherman Oil Mill, a corporation owned by the Birge-Forbes interests at Sherman It is a five-stand gin.

Gins at Pilot Point and Tioga were owned by Light Brothers. The one at Pilot Point is a ten-stand plant and the one at Tioga is a five-stand gin. All of the gins will be put in first-class condition for the new season opening late in the summer, it was announced.

Miss Hattie Neathery of Farmersville spent the week-end in McKinney visiting her brother, former County Tax Collector Dan Neathery, and wife and other relatives and friends. She was speaker on the Sunday School missionary program at the First Methodist church Sunday by invitation of Mrs. Dr. E. L. Burton, who is in charge of the fourth Sunday missionary programs. T. L. HUGHSTON PRESIDENT STATE GRAIN DEALERS

Formerly of Plano.

T. L. Hughston of Crowell, Texas, has been elected president of the Texas Grain Dealers association which held its thirty-sixth annual convention, at Dallas, a few days ago. Mr. Hughston formerly lived at Plano and is a nephew of T. F. Hughston, veteran Plano citizen and widely-known Texas Mason of that city who is the father of Judge Wallace Hughston of McKinney, Grand Master of the Texas Grand Masonic lodge.

The association will petition the railroads to cut the freight rates in Texas from twenty-five to fifty per cent and make good their opportunity to recover some of the business that they have lost to motor trucks.

T. A. Poindexter of Murphy was in McKinney, Monday, attending to business and consulting Dr. E. L. Burton, the eye, ear, nose and throat specialist. He reported a heavy rain in that community.

Mrs. Floyd S. Nelson and attractive young daughter, May Ruth, of Dallas, have arrived for a few days' visit with her parents, former Mayor H. A. Finch and wife.

Ray Bomar and wife left Tuesday for their home at Three Rivers, in Southwest Texas, after spending the week-end at the home of his aunt, Mrs. C. N. Malone, and husband, and visiting other McKinney relatives. Ray is a grandson of Billy Bomar, veteran McKinney resident, living on Greenville street. He is associated with his father, Ed Bomar, and his brother, J. T. Bomar, in business at Three Rivers.

NORTH CAROLINA BROTHER OF MRS. H. H. CRAVER

The following account of the funeral of the late Henry Foltz of Winstom-Salem, North Carolina, appeared in his home paper. The deceased was the only brother of Mrs. Mariah Craver of McKinney, widow of the late H. H. Craver, an honored pioneer citizen of the Climax community, twelve miles east of McKinney. Mrs. Craver, who makes her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sullivan, North College street, is far long in her eighties. She has the deepest sympathy of all in her bereavement. The news item in the Winston-Salem paper is as follows:

Successful Business Man.

"Funeral services for Henry Wesley Foltz, 79, pioneer business man and active church worker in Winston-Salem for many years, who passed away Monday night at a local hospital, will be held this afternon, at 2:30 o'clock at the home, 622 West Second street, and at Calvary Moravian church at 3 o'clock. Dr. Edmund Schwarze will conduct the service. Burial will follow in the Moravian graveyard.

Members of the board of elders of Calvary Moravian church, of which Mr. Foltz was a member, will act as pallbearers. They will be W. E. Shore, H. M. Brandon, H. D. Kester, J. G. Walker, Paul Linville, A. E. McElveen, V. R. Hodgin, F. B. Jones and W. W. Conrad.

A native of Friedberg, Mr. Foltz had spent the greater part of his life in Winston-Salem and was particularly active in welfare work. He became interested in the work at the county home after the governor of North Carolina appointed him a member of a group to inspect the county home, jail and convict camp four times each year. He saw the need for religious services at the county home and since that time he had prepared a schedule of services for this institution at the beginning of each year. He also was responsible for the organization of several Moravian churches.

In business, Mr. Foltz devoted his energies to real estate until he retired from active business several years ago. He was a life member of Winston-Salem Lodge No. 167, A. F. and A. M.

Surviving are the widow and one sister, Mrs. Mariah Craver of McKinney, Texas.

T. L. Bailey and wife visited at Snow Hill Sunday attending decoration day exercises there. Mr. Bailey was on the program with a talk and also assisted with the music. This decoration day service will be an annual affair at the Snow Hill cemetery in the future. It will be held each fourth Sunday in May.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bagwill and grandchildren, Ardelle and Marguerite Melton, attended baccalaureate services at Plano Sunday night. One of the graduates, Miss Louise Bagwill, daughter of Editor and Mrs. Arthur A. Bagwill is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bagwill.

While in Plano attending the high school graduating exercises there Monday night, this editor and wife were shown a pieced quilt one of the graduation gifts received by Miss Louise Bagwill. The quilt was made by her great-grandmother, Mrs. Evelyn Spencer, of McKinney, who will be ninety years old on the fifteenth of next October. The quilt was made by this aged lady during the last few months and would do credit to the needlecraft of a woman one-third her age. It is needless to say that Louise, who is a daughter of Editor and Mrs Arthur A. Bagwill, of Plano, prizes this gift perhaps above any of the great number of valuable and useful presents given her on the occasion of her high school graduation.

Julian Landsdale is suffering from a severe attack of appendicitis.

Ben Warden is at home in McKinney after being engaged as a civil engineer for the United States government on Red river.

W. T. Dunn, the clever, hustling druggist and merchant of Altoga, was in the city today on business.

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be presented by the spring graduating class of McKinney High school at the Heard Opera house tonight.

G. M. D. Williams of Rhea's Mill was a business caller at our office today. He paid for our paper to be sent a year to his sister, Mrs. C. M. Epperly at Floyd, Va.

Dr. E. E. King, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Rev. M. F. Wheeler, county missionary, have returned from Westminster, where they attended a meeting of the board of trustees of the Westminster institute.

Dr. Ben E. Throckmorton has moved into his new two-story combination brick residence and office, 21 South Tennessee street. This is a distinct addition to McKinney's importance as a city of modern, substantial brick buildings.

PEOPLE WHO KNOW Haven't Been Fooled!

The barometer of the automobile industry for the last twenty-one years has been governed by the Indianapolis endurance test. Beware of unscrupulous advertising. Know the truth. In the twenty-one years 95 per cent of the cars that finished among the first ten were eight cylinders or only 5 per cent were six-cylinder types.

Since 1919 not one six-cylinder automobile has finished among the first ten, which seems pretty conclusive evidence against six-cylinder types.

Out of Forty-Six Entries Today not one is of the 6 Cylinder Type.

MELISSA
Mrs. Ethel Bridgefarmer

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Luscomb attended the baccalaureate program here Sunday night at the Baptist church.

Miss Tezzie Johnson of Mt. Pleasant, who is one of the teachers in the school here, has gone to her home for the summer.

The Melissa school came to a close last week after a fine eight months of work under the leadership of Prof. D. W. Smart. The teaching force had to be cut down for next year, but the following were re-elected for the term 1933-34. Prof. D. W. Smart, superintendent; Mrs. Ward Worthy of McKinney, principal; Miss Georgia Corbin of Denton, seventh grade; Miss Tezzie Johnson of Mt. Pleasant, Miss Elizabeth Evans of Leonard and Miss Corrinne Gibson of Melissa.

The baccalaureate address of the graduating exercises of the spring class of the term 1932-33 was delivered Sunday night at 8 o'clock at the Baptist church. There were seven members of the graduating class. The church was nicely decorated with baskets and urns of blossoms and ferns. The trustees of the school marched in a body and sat in reserved seats. They were: E. O. Knox, president of the board; C. O. Robinson, Claud Robinson, H. T. Leigh, G. W. Porter, Joe C. Moore and Oliver Nevil. Next in line came the teachers as follows: Supt. D. W. Smart, Mrs. Ward Worthy, Misses Georgia Corbin, Tezzie Johnson, Elizabeth Evans, Lottie Belle Jones and Corinne Gibson. Miss Kathryn Osburn played the piano for the exercises. The graduates marched in single file. They were: Miss Marie Bryant, who wore a pink creep frock; Arlyn Smith; Miss Frances Erwin, in a pink crepe gown; Jess Erwin; Miss Verna Holland, who wore a blue crepe dress; Edwin Dickenson and Miss Marion Gibson, who was dressed in a white embroidered organdy frock. The young men wore light trousers and dark coats. The girls carried arm bouquets.

The program follows: Processional, chorus by choir, "The King Most High;" invocation; chorus by choir, "My Father Watches Over Me;" special song by Mr. and Mrs. Schelly; baccalaureate sermon by Rev. E. B. Jackson, McKinney; benediction and recessional.

Several have the measles. Among them are Mrs. G. W. Porter, her children, Cecil Tom, Irma Lou, Alice and G. W.; Mrs. Lawrence Anderson and two children, Miss Irma and Winifred; Miss Tootsie Anderson, Mary Ellen Rice, Helen and Artel Roach, Jewel Loftice and two small Rice children; R. F. Lawson.

HARVESTING.

With harvesting in full blast over the county, soon the hum of the threshers will be heard. Much of the grain will come on the market, turning loose more money in the channels of trade, while some of the crop will be stored for feed purposes. Many business houses of our home town, we notice, have a big supply of binder twine and other reaping and threshing supplies. Your Home Town always gets a "kick" out of visiting a threshing machine outfit. If the chiggers would only forget to make an attack on us from all sides on such occasions, we'd spend more time out watching Collin's grain crop threshed. But why bring up the subject of such a troublesome and ever-present pest. We don't like them and we know they have a dislike for us by the manner in which they make us suffer when once they do cover us with bumps that make one feel decidedly uncomfortable.

J. W. BURNS DIES AT LATE HOME IN FARMERSVILLE

J. W. (Uncle Jim) Burns died at his home in Farmersville Saturday morning, May 27, at 10 o'clock. Uncle Jim, as he was familiarly called by his many friends, had reached the ripe old age of 91 years, 4 months and 15 days. He was born January 12, 1842, in the state of Mississippi, where he grew to manhood. In the spring of 1862 he joined the Union army at Lexington, Ky., and remained in the service throughout the conflict. He was twice married, his first wife having passed away many years ago.

The deceased came to Texas in 1872, settling in Kaufman county, where he lived for some time. Later he moved to Rockwall county, living there for three years, and then came to Collin county, near the town of Millwood. He engaged in farming and also served as miller in his home community. He had resided in this county for fifty-eight years.

Uncle Jim is survived by his wife and the following children: J. Riley Burns of Farmersville; S. C. Burns of Vernon and Mrs. Susie McDonald of Dallas. Thirty-eight grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held in the Church of Christ at Farmersville Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. H. Carter of Terrell. Interment followed in the Jones cemetery.

A large number of friends of the deceased attended the obsequies.

COLLIN WOMAN SUCCUMBS TO HEART ATTACK

Mrs. Synthia Francis Wilson, 65 years, 6 months and 4 days old, succumbed to a heart attack at the home of her son in East McKinney Monday night, May 29, at 8:30 o'clock. She resided in the Friendship community, being on a visit to her sons in this city at the time of her sudden death.

The deceased was born in Kentucky, Sept. 25, 1867, the daughter of the late A. Stephens and Polly Ann (Eastham) Stephens. She had been a resident of this state for forty years. She was preceded in death by her husband.

Surviving are eight children, as follows: Mrs. Will Cashon, McKinney, route 1; Mrs. Jess Lewis, Allen, route 1; Mrs. Lee Durham, McKinney, route 2; Mrs. Shelby Evans, Lubbock; Mrs. Myrtle Reeder, McKinney, route 2; J. B. Wilson, Celina; J. W. and G. C. Wilson, both of McKinney. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Jannie May and Mrs. May Combest, of this city.

Funeral services were held last (Tuesday) afternoon, May 30, at Mt. Olive, conducted by Revs. Jim Smith and Milton Greer. Interment followed in the Mt. Olive cemetery, under direction of the Isaac Crouch Funeral home of this city.

Gunnery Sergeant John Kerlin, son of Mrs. Jennie Kerlin of Wylie, and former resident of that hustling little Southeast Collin town, now a member of the Fourth Regiment of Marines, stationed at Shanghai, China, is one of the outstanding athletes of that regiment, according to a report of regimental sports activities received at Washington Marine Corps headquarters. Sergeant Kerlin was a member of the enlisted men's golf team, which went undefeated during the season of 1932. He is also a member of Company K playground baseball team, the regimental champions, and is also a leading bowler of the regiment. The Fourth Marines went to China in 1927, to protect American lives there. Apart from their military duties, they have an active sports program and frequently compete with the British, French and other national armies in the Orient.

The United States navy will return to its rightful place as second to none when the country recovers economically, Henry L. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, Friday predicted in addressing the graduating class of the naval war college at Annapolis.

Sunday afternoon, Mrs. W. G. Strother, Tom Billie Strother, Ann Jack Strother and William Smith are students in the conservatory and appeared on the program.

BACCALAUREATE HELD FOR ANNA HIGH SENIORS

The baccalaureate sermon for the Anna High school graduating class was delivered Sunday morning, May 28, at the high school auditorium by Rev. Thos. L. Sterck, Methodist pastor of that place.

Commencement exercises were held Monday night in the auditorium with the Rev. E. O. Whitwell, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of McKinney, delivering the principal address. Supt. W. L. Roper awarded diplomas, scholarships and medals.

Seventh grade graduation exercises were held at the school at 9 a. m. Friday, when Prof. L. Dow Hendricks, county superintendent, gave the address and awarded diplomas. The four high pupils are Betty Giles, William Smith, Helen Strother and Ann Jack Strother.

Other members of the class are James Kelly, Trula McHone, Chockie Brown, Beth Strother, Jimmie Lee Wolf, Arba Brinlee, Marshal Brown, Charles Baldwin, Jack Smith, Loran B. Bass, Cleo Miller, Wilfred Craver, Elizabet Rutherford, Louise Merrill, Johnnie Lindsey, Lena Mae Rich, Jennie Lindsey and Bonnie Pearl Hendricks.

NORTH M'KINNEY YARD IS GROWING MAGNOLIAS

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Byrom, residing at 514 Josephine street, have three thrifty Magnolia trees growing in their yard that are now blooming. Magnolia trees have aromatic bark and large fragrant white, pink or purple flowers succeeded by conelike fruits or buds, the fleshy seeds hanging when ripe by slender filments.

These particular trees of this McKinney couple have white flowers of immense size that are now coming into their most beautiful stage.

Authorities say that there are fifteen species of Magnolia, about half of them American and half Asiatic species are commonly cultivated. The foliage of these magnolias is a rich green and have large leaves.

There may be other home yards in our city of which we do not know that also have Magnolia trees growing in them.

McKinney residents are steadily becoming more and more civic minded with every recurring year. It is a fine thing to observe the many beautifully kept grass lawns, flower gardens, pretty shade trees and well-cared-for shrubbery that beautify and make more attractive the homes of our city from the humblest cottage to the most palatial dwelling. Flowers, plants, shrubbery and trees are no respecter of persons—if properly treated and cared for, they will grow into all their beauty as readily for the peasant and day laborer as they will for the rich or the multi-millionaire.

Miss LaMartine Price, daughter of Mrs. C. E. Price, underwent an operation in the local City hospital a few days ago. She was resting nicely Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Potter and daughters, Fanelle and Billie, spent Sunday in Caddo, Oklahoma, guests of Mrs. Potter's sister, Mrs. Grady Copeland, and family. They were accompanied on their visit by Mrs. A. P. Strother and daughter, Mary. Mrs. Strother is the mother of Mesdames Potter and Copeland.

Rev. H. U. Keller, a local Methodist preacher of Farmersville, was in McKinney Monday with his motor truck making his usual calls on local merchants in the interest of the Farmersville Candy Manufacturing concern. He has been in this line of work for about seventeen years. Rev. Mr. Keller found en route to McKinney, Monday morning, Pilot and Sister Grove creeks to be overflowing and water running over the concrete pavement approach to the East Fork bridge, just east of McKinney. He said the rains to the northwest of McKinney were evidently very heavy Sunday night.

We are under obligations to Rev. R. L. LeFevre for Weekly Democrat-Gazette subscription renewal. Rev. Mr. LeFevre was formerly pastor of the North McKinney Baptist church on two separate tenure periods in past years. He worked in McKinney as a delivery boy before entering the ministry. He is now a consecrated, influential minister of the Baptist denomination who has held pastorates of various Baptist churches. He is appreciated nowhere more than he is right here in McKinney and Collin county among his old home people. By special invitation, Rev. Mr. LeFevre occupied the First Baptist pulpit here Sunday morning in the absence of its pastor, Dr. J. H. Cozad, who was in Washington, D. C., attending the general Baptist convention.

BIRTHDAY PARTY IN HONOR OF MISS IDA HALL

A family reunion and birthday party, in honor of Miss Ida Hall, was enoyed at the home of W. A. Hall, about three miles northwest of McKinney, Sunday. Miss Hall was the recipient of a number of lovely gifts. At noon a sumptuous dinner was spread on a table under the shade trees in the Hall yard. The afternon was spent in singing and talking over old times.

About sixty-five relatives and friends were present for this happy occasion, including:

W. A. Hall, Miss Ida Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chaney and children: Gladys, Chaney, Rose Nell Chaney, and Wilson Hall Chaney; Mr. and Mrs. Will Hartman and children, Mary Lou, W. T. and Jack; Mrs. Hattie Lindley and children, Gertrude, W. A. and Ruth Lindley; Mrs. Bettie Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Son Hall, Miss Billie Hall, Virgie Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Younger and children, John Frank, Cynthia, Margaret and Bobbie Joe; Mrs. Emmitt Fetty, Master Billie Joe Petty, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Moreland and family; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Airhart, Eva Lou, Anna Laura, Jessie Ray and Dick Rowe Airhart; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Holland, Willie Mae Holland, Le Voeta Holland, Mr. and Mrs. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cogburn, Nannie Bell Cogburn, Lynn Boorman, Steve Shipman, Alla Dennis, Vera Barnes and Janette Adair.

THREE SANITARY PIT TOILETS ARE BUILT

Three sanitary pit toilets were made in the county last week in demonstrations given by L. H. Male, sanitary engineer of the state board of health, in co-operation with Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration club agent and J. P. McCullough, county farm agent.

Through the erection of this type of toilet in the various homes of the county, it is hoped the amount of typhoid fever and other diseases conveyed by intestinal discharges will be eliminated from Collin county. These toilets are substantially made, the base or floor and riser being made of solid concrete, reinforced by hog and chicken wire as well as scrap iron. The concrete slab, with the house securely fastened to it, is placed over a pit five feet deep. A vent pipe, which reaches above the roof, takes away all odors, while the riser is made absolutely fly proof, preventing the spread of diseases.

The pit toilets made last week are located at the homes of J. M. Bounds, Franklin community; Everett Morrow, Winningkoff community, and W. P. Bryan, Bethany community. Mr. Male states that all rural homes should be supplied with this type of outdoor toilet, where a sewage system is not available, since it helps protect the people fro mcontagious diseases. The plan is that other toilets of this type will be constructed over the county this year.

Those interested and wishing instruction in this work should see or write either or both county agents.

A. W. (MECK) KERR DIED TUESDAY IN HOUSTON

A. W. (Meck) Kerr, 85, prominent retired business man of Houston, died in that city Tuesday, May 23, from the effects of injuries sustained May 11 in an automobile accident in that city. The deceased was a brother of W. M. Kerr of McKinney and an uncle of former District Clerk Jerome H. Sneed and of Mrs. F. A. Kluttz, also both of this city. He was born in Tennessee and came to Texas with his parents when he was a lad of only about 14. The family settled in the Vineland community, seven miles northwest of McKinney. He was a son of the late Maj. Green W. Kerr, one of this county's most honored and influential pioneer citizens. The following news item of his death and funeral is taken from the Houston Post of May 24:

Started First Nursery.

A. W. Kerr, 85, who with his brother, John S. Kerr, started the first commercial nursery in Texas 50 years ago at McKinney, died at his home, 2419 Travis street, at 3:20 p. m. Tuesday. He had been injured on May 11 in an automobile accident at Peden avenue and Stanford street.

After operating the nursery at McKinney for a short while, Mr. Kerr moved to Sherman and came to Houston 32 years ago. He had been a resident of Texas for 71 years, moving to Texas from Tennessee when he was 14 years of age.

Funeral services will be held at the Central Presbyterian church at 5 p. m. Wednesday, with Rev. A. B. Buchanan and Rev. Charles L. King officiating. The body will lie in state from 4 to 5 p. m. at the church. Burial will be in Glenwood cemetery under the direction of the Settegast-Kopf company.

Before Mr. Kerr retired from the florist business here several years ago, he introduced new fruits among orchardists in Texas. Fruit growers said he had contributed materially to the advancement of the florist and commercial nursery business in Texas.

Mr. Kerr is survived by two daughters, Miss Florence Kerr of Houston and Mrs. Elizabeth K. Poole of Beaumont, Cal.; two sons, Fred H. and Robert C. Kerr of Houston; two brothers, W. M. Kerr of McKinney and A. D. Kerr of Seymour; two grandchildren, Miss Nell Kerr Poole of Beaumont, Cal., and Roy Kerr of Houston, and a great-grandson, Robert Roy Kerr of Houston.

COUNTY CROP OUTLOOK NOW PRETTY FAIR

Unquestionably we are in for a rather light grain crop this year in Collin county, said W. C. Dysart, owner of Sunnybrook farm, ten miles north of McKinney, while in town Friday. He has wheat, oats, rye and barley.

He kept his wheat pastured down until late this spring. Fortunately, about the time he took his live stock off of it, it rained and has been raining at intervals since. Consequently, the wheat spread well from the effects of pasturing and has made rapid growth since with the result that his own wheat crop is better than the average on account of this late pasturing suiting the season this year for wheat; but his oats, rye and barley crops are all lighter than usual.

Mr. Dysart considers the prospect for a good corn crop so far as encouraging, and cotton is also doing well.

The freeze killed the bulk of his fruit crop, but he says that he has a good crop of pecans started for this fall.

In his opinion, Collin county is sitting pretty up far as to crop prospects as a whole.

Mr. and Mrs. Dysart still market their butter, cream, eggs and vegetables to Dallas customers, Mr. Dysart making from one to two trips a week to market his products which he retails to home customers in that city.

Allen Duncan and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Chaddick, all of Plano, visited Mr. Duncan's aunt, Miss Laura Sue Allen, a patient in the McKinney City hospital Sunday. Miss Laura Sue who is one of our city's most efficient primary teachers at the J. L. Greer (North) Ward public school was recently operated on in the local hospital. Her condition continues to make steady improvement.

Charley Hood and E. B. Bryant, two Plano citizens, were in McKinney Monday. Wheat harvest began in that section of South Collin the latter part of last week, but the rain Sunday night which was very heavy temporarily suspended operation of the self binders until the fields dry up some. One of the first to begin cutting wheat in South Collin was Guy Rice.

The House Of Bargains

WHEN YOUR BANKER SAYS "NO"

Possibly you are at fault. Your banker most likely would make the loan were your house in order. Then—your problem is to overcome your limitations of capital by judicious management.

It is surprising how far dollars will stretch when under control. With your budget balanced and expense governed there will be something left for profit. Present the new picture to your banker and the chances are the answer will be "Yes."

INTERMENT OF FRED COTHES ON SATURDAY

Funeral services for Fred Cothes of Allen, who died in St. Paul's hospital, Dallas, were held at the Christian church in Allen Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. Clinkinbeard. Burial followed in the Rowlett cemetery, under the direction of the Isaac Crouch funeral home of this city.

Active pallbearers were: G. E. Nash, Buford Cate, D. Angel, Charlie Chapman, W. H. Dutton and Carl E. Melton.

The deceased was a native of this county, being born near Allen November 11, 1888. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cothes and had resided all his life on his farm near Allen. He was 44 years, 6 months and 19 days old at the time of his passing.

His death occurred in St. Paul's hospital, Dallas, Thursday night, May 25, after a several weeks' illness.

Besides his wife, and one daughter, Norman Jean, several brothers and sisters survive. They are Grady and Frank Cothes of Allen; C. C. Cothes of Seminole, Okla.; Mrs. Sam J. Moulden of Weston and Mrs. Dennis Knight of Seminole, Okla. His parents and one sister preceded him in death.

WESTON COUPLE ARE PROUD PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Betty of near Weston announce the arrival of a fine nine-pound son, their first born. The baby has been named Charles Shumway and he was born May 22.

The young mother was before her marriage Miss Maybell Pittman, being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Pittman, who reside on route 4, out of McKinney.

The happy young parents are receiving congratulations from a wide circle of friends upon the arrival of their sweet baby son.

YOUNG FRISCO LADY WILL GO SOON TO CHILE

Miss Adelle Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Clark of Frisco, who has been teaching Spanish in Texas Christian university, Fort Worth, for the past six years, will embark from Los Angeles, July 15, for Santiago, Chile, where she will remain for a year. While in Santiago, Miss Clark will live with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Clark and will study in the University of Chile and do research work in the national library, there.

Miss Clark, who has been national secretary of Alpha Zeta Pi, honorary modern language fraternity for the last four years, is a graduate of Frisco High school and holds a B. A. degree from C. I. A., at Denton, and an M. A. degree from Columbia university, New York City.

She will be one of the few scholars admitted to the privileges of the National Chilean library because this permission is granted only a few scholars by the United States ambassador to Chile.

Miss Clark will embark from Los Angeles on the S. S. Rakuyo Maru of the Japanese-American line, which will call at several Central and South American ports before reaching Santiago about the middle of August.

VETERAN PLANO FARMER MEMBER PIONEER FAMILY

Will Forman, one of our county's best farmers and most substantial citizens, living just east of Plano, says that Sunday night's rain was the heaviest and washed his land in a more damaging way than any rain that has fallen on his place for a number of years.

Mr. Forman is 73 years old and owns and lives on the farm on which he was born. His father, Will Forman, and his grandfather also Will Forman, likewise made their home on the same farm. Both are long since deceased. His grandfather settled the place about eighty-four years ago. The Formans are as high class people as we have in all of our county.

The present Will Forman is an uncle of Hon. Jewell E. Abernathy, prominent McKinney lawyer.

WORLD WAR VETERANS ARE REMEMBERED

Tiny American flags were placed on the grave of deceased World war veterans in approximately twenty cemeteries of Collin county Sunday by members of the Jimmie Geigas American Legion post of this city. Spanish War veterans were also remembered in the same manner.

It has been an annual custom of the Legionnaires of this city and county to place American flags on the graves of their deceased comrades for the last several years on the Sunday nearest Memorial day.

Committees which carried out this important feature of decoration day follow:

S. G. Taylor—Melissa, Highland, Weston and Cottage Hill cemeteries.

H. H. Standley—Allen, Rowlett and Mt. Olive.

Bartow Chapman — Walnut Grove, Bethel and Wear.

O. L. Hope and Joe Wilson—Chambliss, Altoga, Verona, Elm Grove.

Jim Thomas, chairman of committee to see that graves in Pecan Grove cemetery, McKinney, are decorated.

H. S. Davis—Wilson, Climax and Princeton.

Veterans who sleep in Noyes and Forest Grove cemeteries were also remembered with flags.

MRS. A. R. NASH DIES AT HOME IN DALLAS

Funeral services for Mrs. A. R. Nash, 75, wife of the Rev. A. R. Nash, superannuated minister of the North Texas conference of the Methodist church, were held at Grace Methodist church at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The Rev. Guy Jones and the Rev. Frank Richardson of Dallas, the Rev. Elmer C. Parker of Royse City and the Rev. M. L. Hamilton of Greenville officiated.

The deceased and husband lived several years in Farmersville, East Collin, while the latter was serving as pastor of the Methodist church there. The deceased had numerous friends in McKinney, where she and husband had often visited.

Mrs. Nash is survived by one son, Wallace, of Chicago, and seven daughters: Mrs. W. F. Leonard, Mrs. Charles Lindsey and Mrs. L. L. Green of Dallas, Mrs. E. C. Moore and Mrs. J. O. Jackson of Houston, Mrs. Odell Becker of Kaufman and Mrs. Ina Barnes of Rockwall and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

She was active for many years in church work and was a life member of the Woman's Missionary society. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery, by the side of her son, Walter. Six grandsons acted as pallbearers: W. F. Leonard Jr. Nash Leonard, George Becker Jr., Walter S. Becker, Alfred Lindsey and Glenn McDonald.

Quite a number of farmers in the county are working, cutting alfalfa.

Mrs. Grady Giles of Anna entered the City hospital Sunday, where she is taking a course of treatment. She is the wife of the Anna banker.

At a meeting of Frisco Camp No. 1421, Woodman of the World held Friday night of last week for the purpose of reorganizing, the following officers were elected: George B. Fitzgerald, clerk; John Sparks, C. C.; J. Paul Biggerstaff, banker; Mr. Hestand, advisor; H. L. McConnell, past C. C.; Johnnie Fred McIntire, escort; F. M. Watson Jr., watchman; Managers—George Robertson, W. C. Wolfe and A. R. Richardson. Meeting nights set for Tuesday of each week.

A. H. Eubanks Jr. and John Sappington are spending a few weeks in Lakeland, Fla., the home of the latter. A. JAMES H. LOWRY DIES AT HOME IN HONEY GROVE

James Hardy (Buttermilk Jim) Lowry, 67, one of Texas' best known newspaper men, died at his home in Honey Grove Monday after a long illness. He was a member and former president of the Texas Press association, and, for twenty years, was a member of the board of regents of the College of Industrial Arts at Denton.

Born on a farm near Bells, Tenn., he received only a common school education. He began work in a printing office at 16 and spent the remaining years of his life in the newspaper business.

Moving to Honey Grove in 1886, Mr. Lowry began editing the Honey Grove Signal in 1893. When the country voted dry thirty-five years ago, Mr. Lowry wrote an editorial in which he extolled the virtues of buttermilk and urged all people to drink it. This editorial was reprinted by a large number of leading papers in the North and East and by nearly every paper in Texas. From that time on Mr. Lowry was affectionately known by his friends as Buttermilk Jim.

He was married to Miss Fannie Thompson, July 22, 1888. He was a member of the Christian church, served as chairman of the official board for many years, also taught a Sunday school class for twenty-five years and was an exceptional Bible scholar. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Marvin Campbell, and two granddaughters, Francis Louise and Elida Jim Campbell.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternon at 4 o'clock at the Christian church in Honey Grove.

By MARY K. CRAWFORD,
Student of C. I. A.

"Jim Lowry could have been rich if he had wanted to be." That is the way friends describe James H. Lowry, who died at his home in Honey Grove Monday, May 29. He was a country newspaperman and a member of the Texas State College for Women (C. I. A.) board of regents from 1905 to 1925.

Nicknamed "Buttermilk Jim" for his famous solution of the liquor problem thirty-six years ago when Fannin county was voted dry, he had refused all offers from metropolitan newspapers, to remain a country journalist.

Lowry, who was born in Bells, Tennessee, in 1866, was fond of telling that he left his native state because he got tired of chasing hogs out of the turnip patch. Whether this was only a sample of his famous humor, it remains that he came to Texas when he was twenty. He continued in the printing business in Honey Grove, which he had entered by chance in Tennessee at the age of seventeen. In 1893 he took charge of the Honey Grove Signal and served as its editor until his retirement in 1929.

Accomplishing seeming miracles through the magical influence of his personality, he worked tirelessly for the college from the time of his appointment to the board early in 1905, the third year of the school's existence. In the fourteen years he served as president of the board, from 1911 until his resignation in January, 1925, the school knew an unprecedented growth and development unequaled by any other school in Texas. It grew from the status of a junior college giving two years of preparatory in its three years of training to the second largest school of higher learning for girls in the United States in 1925.

In those days when "Jim" Lowry was serving as third president of the regents, his tall, thin figure was a familiar one along the walks of the C. I. A. campus. Slightly bald and with remarkable brown eyes lightened by the kindliness of his personality, he was the personal friend to all whom he came in contact—faculty and students alike.

Those who knew him then remember himas a great story teller and past master in the art of dry witticisms. In a slow, drawling voice and with never a smile at his own jokes he loved to relate his "annedokes," as he called them. At assembly, or chapel periods, where he was a frequent speaker he was wont "to let loose a flood of oratory upon us" is the way H. G. Allen, one of the three original faculty still remaining at the college, described these occasions. The lectures were not wholly devoted to humor, but it was employed as a vehicle to put over an inspirational point Lowry wished to make.

For many years while he was president of the board, Mr. Lowry delivered the diplomas to the graduating seniors at commencement.

Although he pursued no particular pet policies or programs in connection with the administration of the college, Lowry devoted his time and energies to securing its steady growth and development into a college of senior rank. He brought W. M. Bralley to C. I. A. because he thought this man, who was then head of the extension department of the University of Texas, best fitted for the job of building up a first-class college.

When Lowry left the board in January, 1925, the college had attained the ranking of a senior college of the first class, giving instruction and training leading to the baccalaureate degrees of bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, bachelor of business administration, bachelor of [illegible] risen to 245 degrees conferred in 1924.

Although this policy could not explain the attendance increase, Mr. Lowry insisted on Honey Grove girls coming to school at "his" college in Denton. Every girl there on attaining college rank thought immediately of coming to C. I. A., and for years dozens of Honey Grove girls have fared forth to Denton to pursue the paths of higher education.

"Buttermilk Jim" or "Bill Nye Lowry," as his newspaper associates called him, joined the Texas Press association in 1896 and was its president in 1905. In 1929 he had the honor or editing and assisting in the compiling of a "Golden Jubilee History" of that organization. He had one daughter, Mrs. C. M. Campbell, of Honey Grove, and two granddaughters, one of whom is named Jim after her father.

The remarkable achievement and growth of the college during its formative years will stand as the most fitting memorial to the man who could have held much more lucrative positions but preferred to devote himself to unselfish labors for others—plain "Buttermilk Jim" Lowry.

TWENTY-FIVE SETS TWINS ENJOY RITZ PARTY

The "twin party," held at the Ritz theater Monday afternoon, was a huge success, when a large group of twins from McKinney and vicinity were guests of Simplicio and Lucio Godino, only male Siamese twins in the world. The Messrs. Godino were in the city for a personal appearance at the Ritz Sunday and Monday, and on Monday afternoon gave an informal reception to all twins who desired to attend. After seeing these famous and highly-educated young men and their company give a most entertaining performance, the honored guests were invited on the Ritz stage, where they were welcomed by Simplicio and Lucio. Twins of all sizes were present, from tiny boys and girls to grown men and women.

These twins, who attended the show, received their tickets at the offices of The Daily Courier-Gazette and The Weekly Democrat-Gazette where their names were registered. Those registered were:

Jim and Dick Davis, McKinney.

Milton Drake, route 5, McKinney (twin deceased).

Chas. and Owen McMenamy, route 5, McKinney.

FARMERSVILLE LADY SPEAKS HERE SUNDAY

Rev. J. D. Barron, pastor of the Methodist church at Plano, occupied the pulpit of Dr. Claude M. Simpson at the First Methodist church in this city Sunday morning. He was heard by a large congregation and brought a splendid message to his hearers. The pastor, Dr. Simpson, addressed the Frisco High school seniors at the Sunday morning hour when baccalaureate exercises were held there. He occupied his own pulpit Sunday evening, preaching on the subject: "The Helpful Ministry of Spiritual Vision."

Miss Hattie Neathery, of Farmersville, was the principal speaker at the missionary program following the Sunday school class period, being introduced by Mrs. E. L. Burton, in charge of missionary programs of that church.

Miss Neathery, an active worker in the Farmersville Methodist church, being superintendent of one of the departments in that Sunday school, is also a prominent clubwoman and civic worker. In her talk, she declared that Jesus, when He came on earth, taught, preached and healed. He later passed on that commission to His followers. That commission has passed from generation to generation, until it has reached us and it is now up to us, as members of the church today to carry on that great missionary effort.

The speaker related in detail some of the work being carried forward in foreign nations. "Our hearts should thrill with pride when we learn what our church is doing along missionary lines in foreign fields," she said.

Sunday school and Epworth leagues were well attended. The George P. Brown Men's Bible class closed their contest Sunday, there being 125 men, including members and visitors present. The group, captained by G. G. McAlexander, won, coming from behind from the previous Sunday, to win over the group captained by Will C. Gerrish. This is one of the most active and largely attended Men's Bible classes in the city.

MARRIAGE MISS NADINE HOLDER TO H. R. HONAKER

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Miss Nadine Holder of this city and Henry R. Honaker of Farmersville, which took place in Electra, Texas, Monday evening, May 22.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holder of this city, where she formerly resided. She is a graduate of Boyd High school here and also of C. I. A., at Denton. For the past few years she has been engaged in teaching at Electra. She is an attractive young woman, of sweet disposition, and possesses a wide circle of friends. She is a granddaughter of the late W. A. Holder and wife and of the late G. M. D. Williams of Celina.

BUSH SCHOOL TERM CLOSES

The Bush school came to a successful close Friday, May 19, with a program and dinner on the ground at noon. One of the largest crowds to ever attend closing exercises at this school, enjoyed the day.

The Thursday night preceding, a play "Cabbage or Dollars," was given by the pupils of the eighth, ninth and tenth grades. Also a playlet entitled, "Cinderella's Reception," was given by the primary pupils, with novelty numbers between acts. Also at this time the parents of pupils in the primary grades, presented a beautiful bracelet to Miss Verna McClure, primary teacher. Miss McClure has taught the past eight years at Bush and is beloved by every pupil, parent and patron of the school. She has been re-elected for next year. Prof. and Mrs. R. E. Tynes taught the higher grades the past year and also have been re-elected for the coming year.

Bush school is located about nine miles southwest of the city, and is one of the finest rural schools in the county, located in a rich farming section with wide-awake and progressive residents.

The cast of characters in the play, "Cabbages or Dollars," is as follows:

Grandad Parker, an inventor, Garfield Gammons.

Arla Martin, his granddaughter, Oleta Reneau.

Zinny, the colored cook, Grace Lane.

Ezra Jones, the town boob, J. G. Ballew.

Sadie Jones, his sister, the town newsreel, Mamie Lee Cobb.

Jim Powell, the dollars boy, James Story.

Jack Mason, more interested in cabbages, Hal Rasor.

Daisy Burke, the town belle, Mildred Day.

Dolly Collins, her chum, Audra Day.

Chuck Emery, Dolly's fiancee, Ray Rasor.

Sheriff, Willie D. Edmons.

Friends of Daisy and Dolly: Margaret Mathews, Hazel Ballew, Audrey Gammons, Learlen Ture, Emma Edmonds, Gladys Cobb, James Eaton and Roy Allen Hefner.

SISTER OF MRS. OTIS DUVALL ABILENE BRIDE

At 8 o'clock on Monday evening, May 15, Miss Dorothy Osburn, formerly of McKinney, but now of Abilene, became the bride of Brack Lamd, a highly-esteemed young business man of that city. Her marriage took place at the home of her brother, Beecher Osburn, and sisters, Misses Ada Lee and Johnnye Osburn and Mrs. Doyle Kuykendall. Rev. V. B. Attebury, formerly of McKinney, officiated. After the wedding ceremony, a lovely dinner was served in honor of the bridal pair and a number of guests.

The young married couple are making their home at Abilene. The bride, who is a daughter of the late S. A. Osburn, of Abilene, lived with her father and family in McKinney for several years and received her public school education from the third to the ninth grade here, where she has numerous friends and relatives. She is a sister of Mrs. Otis Duvall of McKinney and of Paul Osburn of Valdasta. She is also a niece of of former County Tax Collector Henry E. Morgan and wife of this city. Numerous friends and well-wishers in her native home county here extend congratulations to the happy young couple.

Tinsley Scalf of McDonald was was a McKinney business visitor.

Morgan Weaver was up from Dallas Monday, the guest of his son-in-law and daughter, County Commissioner and Mrs. Dan Davis.

Singing will be held at the Wilson Chapel church, seven or eight miles southeast of McKinney, on Sunday afternoon, June 4, at 2 o'clock. A large crowd is expected to be present and enjoy an afternoon in singing. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Celina Druggist Picks Young Lady Winner

Some time ago the genial Bob Jones, prominent Celina druggist, responded to a suggestion in "Soda Fountain," a drug trade publication, to send the photograph of some pretty young woman in a beauty contest for the May issue of that magazine. He sent the picture of Miss Madge Sears, daughter of Mrs. T. E. Sears of Whitewright. He was very agreeably surprised when he was notified that Miss Sears won the first prize.

The photo was sent without the knowledge of the young lady. But after she won, Mr. Jones was only too glad to send her the prize check and a copy of the publication. Miss Sears is a graduate of the Whitewright High school of 1932 and this year is a student in Austin college at Sherman. Miss Sears is a relative of Mrs. Jack R. Ryan of McKinney.

LOCAL NEWS

While sewing recently, Mrs. Carl Hicks of Wylie, injured her foot when a pair of scissors fell on her foot, cutting the main artery. She is rapidly regaining her usual strength, however.

Mart Dobson, in a talk with a Lewisville citizen who was in McKinney Monday, learned that the rain was very spotted between that town and McKinney. In coming here, he passed through three distinct dry streaks of territory that had very little or no rainfall Sunday night.

John Alfred Lively (colored), 22 years old, son of John Lively and wife, who reside near the cotton mill in the eastern part of McKinney, died last Wednesday of pneumonia. Funeral services were held at the Colored Baptist church with interment following in the colored cemetery. This young negro man formerly worked at several barber shops in the city. He had resided in West Texas for several months before his death.

Tom J. Sneed, a highly-esteemed farmer of near Lucas, was in McKinney Monday. He reported a rather heavy rain early Monday morning on his farm. Mr. Sneed recently moved back to his farm from Waxahachie, where he and his wife had resided for several years in order to give their children the benefit of higher educational advantages afforded by Trinity university located there.

Mrs. Joe Bomar of San Antonio, who was born and reared in McKinney, is slowly recovering from severe injuries sustained in a motor bus collision that took place in that city, May 1, she being one of the passengers. Mrs. Bomar was formerly Miss Sallie McCown, daughter of Mrs. Belle McCown, of this city. Her husband, Joe Bomar, is connected with a wholesale house at San Antonio, where they have been living for several years.

She prefers English and recently wrote a little six-stanza poem on "What Texas Means to Me" for which she is receiving many compliments. Imogene often visits her grandparents in McKinney where she has made a number of good friends and well wishers.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Self and little son, Billie Joe, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Young, in Denison. While there they attended the bedside of Mrs. George R. Watts of Mt. Pleasant, who was a patient in the Long Sneed clinic at Denison. Mrs. Watts recently underwent a serious operation, from which she is rapidly improving. She was removed to her home Monday in Mt. Plasant. Mrs. Watts is a niece of Mrs. Self.

Mrs. Anna Ware, 3415 McFarline boulevard, Dallas, announces the marriage of her daughter, Florence Ware Marshall, to Dr. George L. Snively, May 27, at noon, in the city of St. Loius. They were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Stevenson and will be at home after June 10 at Lewistown, Ill. The bride was born at McKinney, being a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Davis. She is a niece of Mrs. Joe Ware and a cousin of Willie Ware, both of this city, where she has a host of good friends to wish her a long and happy married life.

Claude Bell of Dallas came up to see his mother and sisters, Mrs. J. T. Bell and Misses Vivian and Bessie. Mrs. Bell has been quite ill for some time, but is now much better. They are all pioneer McKinney residents, Claude having left here twenty-five years ago, going to Oklahoma and engaging in the oil business, later coming back to Texas and locating in Dallas. Since the opening of the oil field in Texas, he has been operating there, owning several wells and a large acreage. He resides in Dallas, while his son runs his business affairs, living at Kilgore. Claude has made quite a success in the oil business, which will be good news to his many friends in McKinney, his home. Prof. J. T. Bell died several years ago, the city never having a more respected or honored citizen.

O. O. Pinkerton of Pike was in McKinney Wednesday on business.

Mike Harrington, son of County Judge and Mrs. J. Frank Harrington, who recently submitted to an operation at the City hospital, has been removed to his home, where he is well on the road to recovery.

C. C. Pays-nger, a rustling farmer living west of McKinney, and who also operates a threshing machine is of the opinion that our county will harvest a rather poor grain crop this year. Anyhow he doesn't look for a yield of either oats or wheat as good as last year's crop unless it be in isolated instances here and there.

J. L. Harris and family spent Sunday visiting Mrs. Harris' brother, Jim Judkins and family. Mr. Harris reports crops to be looking fine in and around Van Alstyne, but states that several of the farmers there are having trouble in getting hands to work in the fields.

S. H. Shipman of the Climax community was in the city Saturday. Had the pleasure of shaking his friendly hand. We like Steve Shipman. Square man. Had lots of business dealings with him. Come in and see us often. good friend. You are always welcome.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday. Degrees will be conferred at commencement exercises Wednesday morning. Miss Furr is a graduate of the teachers college, graduating last year.

J. W. Farley, who lives in the Stiff Chapel community, ten miles northeast of McKinney, was a business visitor at our office Friday. He reports a good two-inch rain at his farm on Wednesday night, which will benefit his oats and cause them to stretch up and grow a little taller and make a little heavier grain yield. Cotton is fairly good as to stand and development thus far. Hail of about ten days or two weeks ago made it necessary for him to plant part of his cotton crop over. His son, Prof. Alma Farley, lives with him and helps him run the farm. The son taught the Stiff Chapel school during the past year and has accepted a contract to teach it again next year. Prof. Farley is studying for the Baptist ministry and preaches occasionally now. He is a nephew of Rev. Tal Farley of Greenville, another young Baptist preacher, who has been attending college at Decatur dur-ing the past few months.

Two of the happiest twins at the "twin party" given by the Godino brothers, Siamese twins, at the Ritz Monday, were Misses Ova and Ava Debow, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Debow of this city. It was their birthday, both being fourteen years old on Monday. Hence the theater party, which the Ritz theater and the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette gave for all the twins of the county was especially enjoyable to them.

A driving wind and rainstorm, which commenced here shortly before midnight Sunday, totalled 1.67 inches, according to E. Pearl Skelton, local government volunteer weather observer. A total of 3.55 inches of rain has been registered here during the last week, including the .40-inch precipitation here last Wednesday about noon and the 2.08 inch rainfall which fell Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

Monday dawned clear and cool, giving promise of a respite from recent rains and inclement weather.

W. M. Kerr, a respected old McKinney citizen, has returned from Houston, where he was called by the serious illness of his brother, A. W. (Mack) Kerr, prominent retired business man, who died Tuesday, May 23. The deceased was reared near McKinney, but had lived in Houston for many years. He suffered an injury in an auto accident a few days before he died and later suffered a stroke of paralysis that quickly proved fatal. His McKinney brother arrived two days before he died, but the patient was in an unconscious condition and never able to recognize him.

OLD M'KINNEY FATHER REACHES 81ST BIRTHDAY

G. A. Walker reached his 81st birthday, May 25. He makes his home with his only daughter, Mrs. Roy Deal, and husband, 212 Lamar street, having lived here five or six years. Prior to that he lived at Allen for a number of years.

Mr. Walker was born May 25, 1852, at Tullahoma, Bedford county, Tennessee. When he was four years old, his parents moved to Izzard county, Arkansas, where he was reared. Thirty-two years ago he moved to Texas and settled at Allen about seven miles south of McKinney. On September 2, 1931, while crossing the street between the old Collin County National Bank building and A. & P. grocery on the southeast corner of the public square, he was struck by an auto and sustained severe injuries to his hip. While his general health is fairly good for a man of his advanced years, yet he gets about only by the aid of crutches.

Besides his daughter, he is also the father of three sons, Richard Walker of Tyler, Texas; T. Marvin Walker of McKinney and Hervey Walker of Amarillo. Mr Walker is a fine old Christian gentleman, a lifelong member of the Methodist church. He is very affable in disposition, cheerful towards every one and easy of approach. These editors join in extending congratulations to him on the attainment of another birthday and wish him continued good health.

Special Rangers For Collin County

Through recommendations of Judge A. M. Wolford and Sheriff G. J. S. Walker, the following have been appointed as special Texas Rangers. They will receive no pay and serve only in case of a riot or other uprisings. The men appointed are: W. A. Beldon, Ira Anderson, Tom Morgan and Marion Taylor of McKinney, and E. O. Knox of Melissa.

The appointment was made by R. W. Aldrich, adjutant general of Texas.
